

UNLOCK YOUR NURSING POTENTIAL

Harbour College

Where Seekers Become Achievers

RTO CODE: 41338 | CRICOS PROVIDER CODE: 03449J

Join NCLEX & OSCE Preparation Course

What will AHIC OBA preparatory training program include?

AHIC OBA preparation course program will assist Internationally Qualified Nurses (IQNs) in the following stages to pass the Australian Outcome Based Assessment (OBA)

- Self Check
- IQN Assessment Payment to AHPRA
- Orientation online module part 1
- IQN Assessment process with AHPRA
- NCLEX Exam
- OSCE
- Registration with AHPRA
- Orientation online module part2

OBA Preparatory Training course description

AHIC provide an Internationally Qualified Nurses(IQN) Outcome Based Assessment (OBA) preparatory training program to assist IQNs learn about the Australian Healthcare system, the diversity of Australian culture and more importantly the standards of nursing practice required by Australian healthcare services. The 3 weeks course comprises following 2 components:

Program	Component 1 Preparation for NCLEX-RN examination	Component 2 Preparation for the Objective Structured clinical examination. (OSCE)
Duration	3 weeks (Self directed learning)	3 weeks (9 sessions)
Mode of delivery	Online learning using Zoom facetime live Q & A strategy sessions and eLearning activities. Mock timed exams for preparation of NCLEX-RN with feedback	72 hours of structured clinical skills in a simulated learning environment with feedback to assess practical skills of a Registered Nurse in preparation of OSCE
Topic covered	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Physiological integrity - psychosocial integrity - Health promotion and maintenance - Safe and Effective Care Environment - Mock NCLEX-RN style examination practice 	NMBA's Standards for practice for RNs Clinical skills practice in a simulated learning environment using objective structured assessment of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Physiological observations - Vital signs - Calculating drug dosages - Subcutaneous/Intramuscular injection - Aseptic Non-Touch Technique - In hospital resuscitation (without defibrillation) - Safe disposal of sharps - Medication administration - Wound care - Hand hygiene - Therapeutic patient communication/consent - Infection control practices - Patient identification and informed consent - Intravenous therapy administration/management - Risk management in the clinical environment - Mock OSCE examination

Why study with AHIC? What Makes us stand out?

- 3 weeks course 3 days a week Crash course
- Total 9 Sessions. Each session facilitated by experienced and highly qualified Australian Registered Nurses.
- Each session will include mixture of theory and practice in a modular simulation Lab reflecting real Australian health services facility.
- Interactive learning in a smaller group with problem solving case scenarios. Course designed on the fundamental principles of clinical decision-making and critical thinking to nursing practice.
- Robust training content that will reflect the industry best practice guidelines.
- Training content are developed in consideration to underpinning knowledge and performance skills required by a registered nurse against the standards for practice for RN
- Theory and practical skills practical assessment developed based on past NCLEX and OSCE exam conducted by AHPRA
- Free Mock OSCE exam. The mock test will resemble the OSCE conducted by AHPRA.
- Print-based Learner guides will be provided to the student
- Responsive and accessible student support

OSCE preparation course designed by AHIC will enhance employability skills

- Communication
- Team work
- Problem solving
- Initiative and enterprise
- Technology
- learning
- self-management

Harbour College

Where Seekers Become Achievers

RTO CODE: 41338 | CRICOS PROVIDER CODE: 03449J

www.ahic.edu.au | admissions@ahic.edu.au
Level 1, 84 – 86 Mary Street, Surry Hills NSW 2010, Australia